BOMBAY TIMES, THE TIMES OF INDIA

Amitabh Bachchan, Kumarmangalam Birla, Sachin Tendulkar, APJ Abdul Kalam... the mere mention of their names brings to mind individuals who have excelled in their respective professional fields, taking India to the global stage. And keeping that in mind, the Times Of India has published a coffee table book called Global Indians, dedicated to some of the outstanding global Indians of the modern era. It wasn't an easy task, mind you, but after much deliberation, a mélange of 25 global Indians was chosen, who best represent the values and ethos we associate with such individuals, and who are all most prominent in their chosen field.

MAKING INDIA PROUD

Industry captains, sports icons, film personalities, classical exponents, political heavyweights, scientists, economists, environmentalists — a selection of 25 distinguished achievers who have made India proud, not just in their own country, but indeed, at the world stage. Manoj G Tirodkar, founder of the Global group, is delighted with this association. Global Indians recognises his contribution in making network services a global business. GTL, his flagship company has completed telecom projects in more than 40 countries and Manoj is widely recognised for efforts towards creating an efficient and environment friendly telecom industry and for championing the cause of shared telecom infrastructure.

The book launch was held recently at the Rashtrapati Bhavan in Delhi in the presence of President of India, Pratibha Patil. Present at the occasion were Bhushan Motiani (Head — Sales & Marketing) & Fl Lt Anand Lamdhade (Vice President — Operations) representing EsselWorld and Water Kingdom, an associate partner with the book.
